ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT.

Within the last few years the Institution has materially increased its instructions in this department, so that it now offers excellent facilities to those who wish to prepare themselves for business. Instruction is now given in the following branches: Mathematics (Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry), English (Reading, Grammar, Rhetoric, Orthoepey, and Literature), German, Latin, History, Constitution, Political Economy, Geography, Physical Geography, Chemistry, Physics, Physiology, Bookkeeping (two courses) and Commercial Correspondence, Commercial Law, Type-writing (two courses), Shorthand (two courses), Drawing, Penmanship, and Religion.

THE COLLEGE OF The Northwestern University

comprises the following Departments of study:

The Collegiate Department, the Preparatory Department, and the Academic Department.

The Collegiate Department offers its students a thorough course in the classical languages and literatures. The English and German languages are the media of instruction, the course being so arranged as to give the students a complete mastery of both. Together with these, moral and intellectual sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics receive careful attention.

The course of the Academic Department embraces not only the studies pursued in business colleges, but also the branches preparatory to the higher studies of engineering, etc.

The institution was founded by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin in the year 1865. It is situated on the Rock river in the city of Watertown, Wisconsin. Its buildings, erected on an elevation and overlooking the city, have a commanding aspect. The buildings consist of a recitation hall; a dormitory, affording accommodations for about 120 students; a refectory, which also contains the sick-rooms and a few private rooms; and a gymnasium. The recitation hall is heated by steam, the other buildings by hot water; all buildings are supplied with modern improvements and lighted by electricity or gas.

GYMNASTICS.

A society for gymnastic exercises is organized, and instruction in gymnastics is given during the autumn and winter terms in the spacious gymnasium erected for that purpose.

A military company, under the command of a competent officer, affords an excellent opportunity for exercise and physical development.

MUSIC.

Vocal and instrumental music are extensively studied and practiced. A brass band and an orchestra are in a flourishing condition. During the last year the students have received instructions from Prof. Salbach in singing.

A pedal organ and several pianos are at the disposal of the students for a small consideration.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Institution possesses a library of standard works, which is increased from year to year with moneys appropriated for that purpose, and by donations from friends of the School. It now comprises 6172 volumes that are entered, and about 300 volumes that have not yet been catalogued. The students maintain a reading room, where they have an opportunity of reading numerous papers and periodicals both in English and German. They also have access to the more important works of reference.

The necessary apparatus for the illustration of history, geography, and the sciences have been procured, and additions are made annually.

COLLEGE PAPER.

The students publish a monthly journal called The Black and Red, which appears on the 15th of every month during the scholastic year. Subscriptions (50 cents per annum) will be received by Mr. E. Wendland.

DISCIPLINE.

As the Institution is under the control of, and sustained by, the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, it is understood that in it the Word of God is to rule supreme and that also the discipline of the school is to be shaped in accordance with this norm.

EXAMINATIONS.

The classes are required to take thorough examinations at frequent intervals in the different branches pursued. About January the 30th and at the close of the third term reports are sent to the parents or guardians. The final examinations of the Senior Class are held during the week immediately preceding the Commencement Exercises.

Students wishing to enter the Freshman Class are required to pass an examination in studies equivalent to those pursued in the Preparatory Department.

Students wishing to enter higher classes must pass a thorough examination in the studies pursued by the class or their equivalent.

Students that have failed in, or have been absent from, examinations will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the Class.

EXPENSES.

The school year is divided into three terms, the first of which is of sixteen, the second and third each of twelve weeks' duration.

Tuition, first term	-	-	-	-	-	-	$12 00
Tuition, second and third term, each	-	-	-	-	-	-	9 00
Incidental expenses, per term	-	-	-	-	-	-	75
Resident students pay for use of furniture per year	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 00
For service, each term	-	-	-	-	-	-	50
For fuel, annually	-	-	-	-	-	-	8 00
Oppidans that pay no tuition must pay annually for fuel	-	-	-	-	-	-	5 00
Rent of a typewriter per month of four weeks	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 00

Each resident student must provide his own bedding, and will receive plain but substantial board at the institution at $40 the first term and at $30 each of the other terms. Students from congregations of the Ev.-Lutheran Synodical Conference of North America receive board at $30 the first term, and $25 the second and third terms. Special terms are offered to such as intend to prepare for the ministry or for teaching within the above-named synod.

All term-bills must be paid within four weeks after the beginning of the term.

Students from abroad whose parents or guardians wish them to stay with private families can be accomodated at from $40 to $60 per term; but in such cases the institution declines all responsibility for a student except during the recitations.

Every student is held responsible for the furniture that he uses, and the cost of repairing any damage thereto will be charged to him. In case of injury to the buildings or to any of the furniture, apparatus or other property of the Institution the damage is charged to the student or students known to be immediately concerned; but if the persons that caused the damage are unknown, the cost of repairing the same is assessed equally upon all the students of the school.

Each student is required to deposit annually on entering $1.00 to pay for any injury done by him to the property of the institution. This money will be refunded if the student does not destroy anything.

ADMISSION.

Every applicant for admission must submit to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and students coming from another college must present certificates of honorable dismissal from the institution where they pursued their studies.

To secure rooms, application for admission for the next scholastic year should be made as early as possible, personally or by letter, to the President.

Course 2 is optional.

Students who desire to enter the Academic Department and are deficient in some branches, may enter the Sub-Junior Class and make up deficiencies there. Young men who work during the summer and cannot attend the whole year, can very profitably take up a special course during the winter months.

The College of the Northwestern University

comprises the following Departments of study:

The Collegiate Department, the Preparatory Department, and the Academic Department.

The Collegiate Department offers its students a thorough course in the classical languages and literatures. The English and German languages are the media of instruction, the course being so arranged as to give the students a complete mastery of both. Together with these, moral and intellectual sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics receive careful attention.

The course of the Academic Department embraces not only the studies pursued in business colleges, but also the branches preparatory to the higher studies of engineering, etc.

The institution was founded by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin in the year 1865. It is situated on the Rock river, in the city of Watertown, Wisconsin. Its buildings, erected on an elevation and overlooking the city, have a commanding aspect. The buildings consist of a recitation hall; a dormitory, affording accommodations for about 120 students; a refectory, which also contains the sick-rooms and a few private rooms; and a gymnasium. A new dormitory is building at present at a cost of $50,000.00; when completed, it will afford additional accommodations for about 150 students. The recitation hall is heated by steam, the other buildings by hot water; all buildings are supplied with modern improvements and lighted by electricity or gas.

GYMNASTICS.

A society for gymnastic exercises is organized, and instruction in gymnastics is given by student instructors during the autumn and winter terms in the spacious gymnasium erected for that purpose.

A military company, under the command of a competent officer, affords an excellent opportunity for exercise and physical development.

MUSIC.

Vocal and instrumental music are extensively studied and practiced. A brass band and an orchestra are in a flourishing condition.

A pedal organ and several pianos are at the disposal of the students for a small consideration.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Institution possesses a library of standard works, which is increased from year to year with moneys appropriated for that purpose, and by donations from friends of the School. It now comprises 6620 volumes that are entered, and about 275 volumes that have not yet been catalogued. The students maintain a reading room, where they have an opportunity of reading numerous papers and periodicals both in English and German. They also have access to the more important works of reference.

The necessary apparatus for the illustration of history, geography, and the sciences have been procured, and additions are made annually.

COLLEGE PAPER.

The students publish a monthly journal called The Black and Red, which appears on the 15th of every month during the scholastic year. Subscriptions (75 cents per annum) will be received by Mr. A. Eickmann.

DISCIPLINE.

As the Institution is under the control of, and sustained by, the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, it is understood that in it the Word of God is to rule supreme and that also the discipline of the school is to be shaped in accordance with this norm.

EXAMINATIONS.

The classes are required to take thorough examinations at frequent intervals in the different branches pursued. About January the 30th and at the close of the third term reports are sent to the parents or guardians. The final examinations of the Senior Class are held during the week immediately preceding the Commencement Exercises.

Students wishing to enter the Freshman Class are required to pass an examination in studies equivalent to those pursued in the Preparatory Department.

Students wishing to enter higher classes must pass a thorough examination in the studies pursued by the class or their equivalent.

Students that have failed in, or have been absent from, examinations will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the Class.

EXPENSES.

The school year is divided into three terms, the first of which is of sixteen, the second and third each of twelve weeks' duration.

Tuition, first term	-	-	-	-	-	-	$12 00
Tuition, second and third term, each	-	-	-	-	-	-	9 00
Incidental expenses, per term	-	-	-	-	-	-	75
Resident students pay for use of furniture per year	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 00
For service, each term	-	-	-	-	-	-	50
For fuel, annually	-	-	-	-	-	-	8 00
Oppidans that pay no tuition must pay annually for fuel	-	-	-	-	-	-	5 00
Rent of a typewriter per month of four weeks	-	-	-	-	-	-	1 00

Each resident student must provide his own bedding, and will receive plain but substantial board at the institution at $40 the first term and at $30 each of the other terms. Students from congregations of the Ev.-Lutheran Synodical Conference of North America receive board at $30 the first term, and $25 the second and third terms. Special terms are offered to such as intend to prepare for the ministry or for teaching within the above-named synod.

All term-bills must be paid within four weeks after the beginning of the term.

Students from abroad whose parents or guardians wish them to stay with private families can be accomodated at from $40 to $60 per term; but in such cases the institution declines all responsibility for a student except during the recitations.

Every student is held responsible for the furniture that he uses, and the cost of repairing any damage thereto will be charged to him. In case of injury to the buildings or to any of the furniture, apparatus or other property of the Institution, the damage is charged to the student or students known to be immediately concerned; but if the persons that caused the damage are unknown, the cost of repairing the same is assessed equally upon all the students of the school.

Each student is required to deposit annually, on entering, $1.00 to pay for any injury done by him to the property of the institution. This money will be refunded if the student does not destroy anything.

ADMISSION.

Every applicant for admission must submit to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and students coming from another college must present certificates of honorable dismissal from the institution where they pursued their studies.

To secure rooms, application for admission for the next scholastic year should be made as early as possible, personally or by letter, to the President.

The following is a list of all the graduates of the College of the Northwestern University upon whom the degree of Bachelor of Arts has been conferred.

Course of Studies.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

The course of studies in the Collegiate Department extends through four years, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The arrangement of the course for the next year is as follows:

Religious Instruction.

Freshman Class.—The Old Testament; the more important parts, especially of the poetical and doctrinal books, are read and explained. Some psalms and four hymns are committed to memory. (2*)

Sophomore Class.—The New Testament, the more important parts are read and explained. Some important passages and hymns committed to memory. (2)

Junior Class.—Christian Doctrines, first and second parts of the Catechism. Acts in the original. (3)

Senior Class.—Christian Doctrines, last three parts of the Catechism. More important facts of Church history. Epistle of St. Paul to the Romans in the original. (3) Given in 1907.

Latin.

Freshman Class.—Caesar's Bellum Gallicum, three books. Erb's Anthologia Latina. Of Lattmann's Grammar the part for Tertia with Exercises. Thirty-six compositions. (5)

Sophomore Class.—Livy, Book XXII; Cicero's De Imperio and Pro Archia Poeta. Vergil, one Book. Grammar reviewed. Thirty-six compositions. (6)

Junior Class.—Tacitus's Annales; Cicero's De Oratore; Horace's Odes. Every week a composition. (6)

Senior Class.—Tacitus's Germania and Agricola; Plautus's Trinummus; Horace's Satires and Epistles. Every week a composition. (6) Given in 1907.

*) Figures after studies denote the number of recitations per week, throughout the year unless otherwise stated.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT.

Within the last few years the Institution has materially increased its instructions in this department, so that it now offers excellent facilities to those who wish to prepare themselves for business. The course of studies in the Academic Department extends through five years, at the end of which diplomas are given to successful students. Special students who have completed any one branch receive a certificate, if in the opinion of the respective professor he is competent to do proficient work in active business life. Instruction is given in the following branches: Mathematics (Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry), English (Reading, Grammar, Rhetoric, Orthoepey, and Literature), German, Latin, History, Constitution, Political Economy, Geography, Physical Geography, Chemistry, Physics, Physiology, Bookkeeping (two courses) and Commercial Correspondence, Commercial Law, Typewriting (two courses), Shorthand (two courses), Drawing, Penmanship, and Religion.

Students who desire to enter the Academic Department and are deficient in some branches, may enter the Sub-Junior Class and make up deficiencies there. Young men who work during the summer and cannot attend the whole year, can very profitably take up a special course during the winter months.

Course of Studies.

Class A.

1. Religious Instruction.—The New Testament, the more important parts are read and explained. Some important passages and hymns committed to memory. (2)*

Course 2 is optional.

Inspector's Residence,

New Dormitory.

Recitation Hall.

The College of the Northwestern University

comprises the following Departments of study:

The Collegiate Department, the Preparatory Department, and the Academic Department.

The Collegiate Department offers its students a thorough course in the classical languages and literatures. The English and German languages are the media of instruction, the course being so arranged as to give the students a complete mastery of both. Together with these, moral and intellectual sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics receive careful attention.

The course of the Academic Department embraces not only the studies pursued in business colleges, but also the branches preparatory to the higher studies of engineering, etc.

The institution was founded by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin in the year 1865. It is situated on the Rock river, in the city of Watertown, Wisconsin. Its buildings, erected on an elevation and overlooking the city, have a commanding aspect. The buildings consist of a recitation hall; a dormitory, affording accommodations for about 100 students; a refectory, which also contains the sick-rooms and a gymnasium. A new dormitory was built last year at a cost of $50,000.00, which affords additional accommodations for about 150 students. The recitation hall and the new dormitory are heated by steam, the other buildings by hot water; all buildings are supplied with modern improvements and lighted by electricity or gas.

GYMNASTICS.

A society for gymnastic exercises is organized, and instruction in gymnastics is given by student instructors during the autumn and winter terms in the spacious gymnasium erected for that purpose.

A military company, under the command of a competent officer, affords an excellent opportunity for exercise and physical development.

MUSIC.

Vocal and instrumental music are extensively studied and practiced. A brass band and an orchestra are in a flourishing condition.

A pedal organ and several pianos are at the disposal of the students for a small consideration.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The institution possesses a library of standard works, which is increased from year to year with moneys appropriated for that purpose, and by donations from friends of the School. It now comprises 7151 volumes that are entered, and about 200 volumes that have not yet been catalogued. The students maintain a reading room, where they have an opportunity of reading numerous papers and periodicals both in English and German. They also have access to the more important works of reference.

The necessary apparatus for the illustration of history, geography, and the sciences have been procured, and additions are made annually.

COLLEGE PAPER.

The students publish a monthly journal called The Black and Red, which appears on the 15th of every month during the scholastic year. Subscriptions (75 cents per annum) will be received by Mr. G. N. Luetke.

DISCIPLINE.

As the Institution is under the control of, and sustained by, the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, it is understood that in it the Word of God is to rule supreme and that also the discipline of the school is to be shaped in accordance with this norm.

REPORTS OF ATTENDANCE AND PROFICIENCY.

The classes are required to take thorough examinations at frequent intervals in the different branches pursued. A careful record is kept of the attendance of every student of the College, and of his proficiency in his several studies. The standing of every student is determined at the close of each semester. A report is sent to the parent or gaurdian of every student, containing the record of all absences from required exercises, indicating his standing in each of his studies for the semester, and announcing his deficiency in any study or studies if such deficiency exists.

CLASS OFFICERS.

All students are under the supervision of class officers. Each class is under such an officer, who directs the work of the students and assigns to each his studies. The class officers try to keep themselves informed at all times of the progress of the students under their supervision and receive all special reports of deficiency or failure on the part of individuals. Students are urged to consult their class officer freely on all questions pertaining to their courses or conduct.

CONDITIONED STUDENTS.

Applicants for admisson to any one class who are deficient in no more than two subjects, may be admitted conditionally, all conditions to be removed by the end of the year during which such student was admitted. Such conditions may be removed by examinations or by taking the subjects with the regular classes pursuing them. Students who have been absent from examinations will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the class.

ADVANCED STANDING.

Candidates for admission to advanced standing must sustain an examination in the studies previously pursued by the class they propose to enter. Under this regulation students are admitted at any time during the year. Under certain restrictions, credits, without examination, are given for work of like grade done in other institutions. In all cases the applicant must present a certificate of honorable dismissal from the college where these credits were earned.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

Students who do not desire to pursue the regular course of study may pursue a select course, provided they be prepared to take the work of the regular class pursuing these branches. Such students are subject to all the rules and regulations of the college; they must take the examination with the regular class, and are required to take sufficient work to occupy their time.

EXPENSES.

The school year is divided into three terms, the first of which is of sixteen, the second and third each of twelve weeks duration.

Tuition, first term	- - - - -	$12 00
Tuition, second and third term, each	- - - - -	9 00
Incidental expenses, per term	- - - - -	75
Resident students pay for use of furniture per year	-	1 00
For service, each term	- - - - -	50
For fuel, annually	- - - - -	8 00
Oppidans that pay no tuition must pay annually for fuel		5 00
Rent of a typewriter per month of four weeks	- - -	1 00

Each resident student must provide his own bedding, and will receive plain but substantial board at the institution at $40 the first term and at $30 each of the other terms. Students from congregations of the Ev.-Lutheran Synodical Conference of North America receive board at $30 the first term, and $25 the second and third terms. Special terms are offered to such as intend to prepare for the ministry or for teaching within the above-named synod.

ALL TERM-BILLS MUST BE PAID WITHIN FOUR WEEKS AFTER THE BEGINNING OF THE TERM.

Students from abroad whose parents or guardians wish them to stay with private families can be accommodated at from $40 to $60 per term; but in such cases the institution declines all responsibility for a student except during the recitations.

Every student is held responsible for the furniture that he uses, and the cost of repairing any damage thereto will be charged to him. In case of injury to the buildings or to any of the furniture, apparatus, or other property of the Institution, the damage is charged to the student or students known to be immediately concerned; but if the persons that caused the damage are unknown, the cost of repairing the same is assessed equally upon all the students of the school.

Each student is required to deposit annually, on entering, $1.00 to pay for any injury done by him to the property of the institution. This money will be refunded if the student does not destroy anything.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND ENDOWMENT FUNDS.

By the will of Mrs. Fannie P. Lewis, late of Watertown, Wis., the College has received a gift of about $20,000, which is to be known as the Fannie P. Lewis Endowment Fund. The income of this fund is to be used in maintaining scholarships which are to be given to students of good standing, who are in need of financial aid. The money for these scholarships, however, will not be available until the beginning of the school-year of 1907, and will be awarded by the faculty, according to the provisions of the will, at the end of the second semester of the preceding school-year. The following two sections of the will specify the purpose and amount of the bequest:

TWENTY-FIFTH. I give and bequeath to the Northwestern University, located at Watertown, Wisconsin, being a body corporate by the law of Wisconsin, the sum of ten thousand dollars, in trust, however, and for the uses and purposes and upon the conditions as herein stated. Said fund shall constitute and be known as the "Fannie P. Lewis Endowment Fund," in memory of the donor, and the net annual income from the same shall be paid by said Northwestern University each year to such students as may be selected for financial aid by the faculty of said Northwestern University. In making such selection said faculty shall take into consideration the need of the person selected of financial aid and also his scholarship. Said sum shall forever remain inviolate and be devoted to the purposes herein indicated; and if at any time by any loss the principal of said fund shall be impaired or diminished, said Northwestern University shall first apply the net income from the remaining fund to make good such loss.

TWENTY-EIGHTH. I hereby devise and bequeath unto the Glens Falls Home of Glens Falls, New York, the Northwestern University located at Watertown, Wisconsin, and to Frank E. Woodard, James F. Prentiss, and William C. Stone, trustees as aforesaid, all the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate, both real and personal, if any I leave at the time of my death, to each the one-third part thereof, share and share alike, the amount so coming, if any, to each of said three legatees, to be added to the principal fund herein before bequeathed to said legatees respectively, and to be held by said legatees upon the same terms and conditions and to be devoted to the same uses and purposes as the specific legacies herein before given to said legatees respectively.

It is highly important that all friends of the college should interest themselves in increasing the endowment fund of the institution as rapidly as possible. To this end much service can be rendered by those who have been temporally prospered, by remembering the institution with legacies. Too often those who could contribute a few hundred dollars hesitate because of the comparative smallness of the amount, while, by their example as well as by the aggregate of such contributions, they could materially assist the institution to a large permanent fund.

In making bequests, care should be taken to use the full corporate title of the College; to state clearly the amount of the bequest, and the special use, if any, for which it may be designed. The following general form of bequest is recommended:

I give, devise, and bequeath to the Board of Trustees of the Northwestern University, Watertown, Wis., the sum of $ (if real estate or any other property, describe fully and accurately), said fund or funds to be held by and applied to the endowment fund of the Northwestern University (or if for any other purpose, state clearly). Should at any time said Northwestern University cease to be controlled by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin and other States, or any Lutheran synod with which the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin and other States may become affiliated, then the above named fund or funds shall revert to the Trustees of said Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin and other States and be by them used to support such other college or colleges as they may establish.

ADMISSION.

Every applicant for admission must submit to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character. For students coming from other colleges see advanced standing, page 31.

To secure rooms, application for admission for the next scholastic year should be made as early as possible, personally or by letter, to the President.
